

HIGH POINT

School-Parent Compact

updated 7/28/2010

The New Jersey statewide assessments in grade eleven provide an indication of your child's proficiency in Language Arts Literacy and in Mathematics. If your child has scored partially proficient he/she will be given every opportunity to obtain remediation work designed to strengthen the proficiency skills needed to successfully achieve on the New Jersey eleventh grade High School Proficiency Assessment. High Point Regional High School would like to work with you to provide a learning environment in every grade.

Supplemental educational services are offered to eligible Title I qualified students through the No Child Left Behind Act. In 2010 High Point Regional High School notified qualified Title I parents that because of our AYP status, supplemental educational service would be provided at the parent's request.

We continue to provide a high quality curriculum and place students in an instructional environment designed to facilitate the learning process. Progress reports and report cards are distributed to parents quarterly. Our students are not separated by or isolated by race, creed, color, national origin, ancestry, age, marital status, affectional or sexual orientation, gender, religion, disability or socioeconomic status.

As part of a school-parent compact at High Point Regional High School, our staff will be working with your child to help him or her achieve high academic standards and to provide opportunities for success. You can help by encouraging your child to attend school, complete homework assignments, and make positive use of extracurricular time.

We invite you to establish and maintain good communication with your child's teacher and to discuss questions you may have regarding your son's/daughter's achievement. Our teachers will meet with you to discuss your individual needs and how we can work together. Please call the High School Principal at 973-875-3101 to schedule an appointment or to make arrangements to visit your child's class.

Parents are encouraged to take an active role in the education of students at High Point.
