Sussex County Department of Health and Human Services is holding Opioid Symposiums in October with three different opportunities to attend.

Thursday, October 17th at Newton High School

Wednesday, October 23rd at Wallkill Valley Regional High School

Monday, October 28th at Lenape Valley Regional High School

These symposiums are being held to provide information to Sussex County Residents concerned about where, how and when to obtain services. Freeholder Deputy Director Sylvia Petillo, Carol Novrit, Administrator of Sussex County Health and Human Services, Francis Koch from the Sussex County Prosecutor's Office will be speaking at some or all of the Symposiums, as their schedules allow. Nick Loizzi, Sussex County Substance Abuse and Municipal Alliance Coordinator will lead the evenings events. Providers from all around the County will be available to answer questions and provide information to attendees.

Also included in the evening will be Hidden in Plain Sight. Hidden in Plain Sight room provides parents with clues from a teen's bedroom to help them determine whether their child might be experimenting with or using drugs or alcohol. Room décor, hidden compartments and items to conceal use are located throughout the room.

Don't miss the opportunity to see and hear all of this important information.
